

F-LINE

New additions to the F-LINE range are two high indirect light versions. Both characteristically feature a high level of uplighting combined with an element of downward light. Products like these are extremely effective in high ceiling applications but can also be used on increased spacings at more medium ceiling heights. Because of the high indirect content they produce a comfortable shadow free lighting installation. These new F-LINE versions are a modern twist on our established AIDA range of products.

Key features are:

- Three lamp version with separate switching for two lamps up and one lamp down. This enables flexible lighting control for different light levels and ambiances.
- Perforated fascia gives a soft feature glow on the luminaire as well as contributing some directly diffused light.
- Perforated sections can also be colour tinted add a dramatic colour feature.
- Opal version gives a very soft comfortable light with a 40:60 distribution of downward to upward light. These products offer optimum comfort with shadow free lighting.
- Both versions feature variable wire suspension fixing positions for flexible installation.
- Available with integral high output 3hr LED emergency.
